- Anyone who has had a seizure, loss of awareness, or other symptom linked to an epileptic condition should consult a doctor before playing a video game.
- Parents should watch when their children play video games. Stop playing and consult a doctor if you or your child have any of the following symptoms:

- 4. Play in a well-lit room.
- 5. Take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour.

Playing video games can make your muscles, joints, skin or eyes hurt after a few hours. Follow these instructions to avoid problems such as tendonitis, carpal tunnel syndrome, skin irritation or eyestrain:

- Avoid excessive play. It is recommended that parents monitor their children for appropriate play.
- Take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour, even if you don't think you need it.

- If you continue to have sore hands, wrists or arms or eyes during or after play, stop playing and see a doctor.

WARNING - Battery Leakage

Leakage of battery acid can cause personal injury as well as damage to your Game Boy. If battery leakage occurs, thoroughly wash the affected skin and clothes. Keep battery acid away from your eyes and mouth. Leaking batteries may make popping sounds.

To avoid battery leakage:

- Do not mix used and new batteries (replace all batteries at the same time).
- Do not mix alkaline and carbon zinc batteries.
- Do not mix different brands of batteries.
- Do not use nickel cadmium batteries.
- Do not leave used batteries in the Game Boy. When the batteries are losing their charge, the power light may become dim, the game sounds may become weak, or the display screen may be blank. When this happens, promptly replace all used batteries with new batteries.
- Do not leave batteries in the Game Boy or accessory for long periods of non-use.
- Do not leave the power switch on after the batteries have lost their charge. When you finish using the Game Boy, always slide the power switch OFF.

POWER PLAYS

Power plays are special plays awarded to you for excellent gameplay. For example, use the Sonic Boom to knock over the defense for a few seconds, making it easy for you to run through them unopposed. Or use the Leap Frog to jump super high into the air and over your opponent, landing safely a few yards deventied.

downfield. Be sure to toggle to the playbook tab marked with an exclamation point [!] to view the Power Plays you've earned.

BACKYARD RULES

The objective of Backyard Football 2006 is to score the most points by advancing the ball into the opposing team's territory and crossing their goal line.

Possession

Home team determines order of possession. The Home team receives the kickoff in the first half, and the Away team receives the kickoff to begin the second half.

The kicking team kicks off from its own 30-yard line.

A ball that is fielded in the opposing end zone can be downed for a touchback. In that case, the ball is given to the offensive team at the 20-yard line.

The offensive team has four chances or "downs" to advance the ball 20 yards. If the offensive team succeeds, it is given four more downs. If the ball is placed inside the defensive team's 20-yard line, the offensive team is given four downs to score a touchdown.

If the offensive team fails to advance 20 yards after 4 downs, then possession is given to the opposing team at the spot of the ball. However, the offensive team may elect to kick a field goal or punt to the defensive team on the fourth down. If a field goal is missed from outside the defensive team's 20-yard line, the opposing team receives possession at the last spot of the ball. If a field goal is missed from inside the defensive team's 20-yard line, the opposing team receives possession at the 20-yard line.

Number of Players

Each team consists of seven players. On the field, play is five-on-five. The two remaining spots on the roster are for reserves that may be used as substitutes for players on the field.

Time

The game is divided into four quarters.

The game clock stops after every play.

A traditional digital countdown clock keeps time.

If the score is tied at the end of regulation play, the game will go into Sudden Death Overtime. Possession is given to to the Home team. Time is not kept and the game continues until a tem scores, winning the game.

Passing

An offensive player can only pass the ball from behind the line of scrimmage on passing plays. Only one forward pass is permitted per play.

All forward passes that touch the ground are considered dead.

Running/Receiving

All players are eligible to receive a pass. The center is eligible only when he or she is beyond the line of scrimmage.

The ball is spotted at the farthest point it was advanced when the ball carrier's knee/back/bottom touched the ground.

A player must have at least one foot In bounds when making a reception. Otherwise the pass is ruled incomplete.

Turnovers

A ball that is dropped by a ball carrier is considered "live" and is ruled a fumble.

A backward pass that touches the ground is considered "live" and is ruled a fumble.

Fumbles may be advanced by the recovering team.

Interceptions change possession of the ball and may be advanced.

Kickoffs and punts that are first touched by any member of the receiving team are considered "live," and can be recovered and advanced by the kicking team.

However, any kickoff or punt that is first touched by the kicking team but not "downed," can be recovered by the receiving team, who retain possession even if they fumble the ball on the return.

Penalties

Penalties will neither be allowed nor assessed.

Scoring

Touchdown – One touchdown equals 6 points. A team scores a touchdown by running across the opponent's goal line with the ball or catching the ball inside the opponent's end zone. Ball carriers can also run into or touch an end zone marker for a touchdown or extra point.

Point After Touchdown (PAT) – After scoring a touchdown, the team is given the opportunity to add one or two extra points, or "points after touchdown," from their opponent's 5 yard line. A PAT can be scored by kicking an Extra Point Field Goal for 1 point, or by running/passing the ball into the end zone for a conversion equalling 2 points.

Field Goal – The offensive team can attempt to kick the ball through the goal posts from any point on the field. A successful field goal is worth 3 points. A missed field goal, if it lands in the field of play, can be returned by the defensive team like a punt.

Safety – One safety equals 2 points. Safeties are ruled when an offensive ball carrier is either tackled in his or her own end zone or (the one at their end of the field) or if he or she fumbles the ball out of bounds from his or her own end zone. The defense is then awarded a safety, and the offense must kick the ball to the defense.
